

The Gig List

1963 – 2023

(a work in progress)

Celebrating 60 years of Entertainment provided by the University of East Anglia
Students Union

Compiled for the pleasure of students, alumni and the folk of Norwich and beyond,
who have come to enjoy amazing performances, shared moments and great nights out with us and their friends at the UEA.

The Nick Rayns LCR | UEA Norwich

The original idea of a gig list came from the sudden loss of Nick Rayns in April 2013, the Student Union's entertainment manager of 36 years.

In my sadness I found it appropriate to remember my friend and mentor by listing every show of his career operating the finest student venue in the country.

But the project grew when Ruth Selwyn-Crome and the University, who were trying to make amends for cancelling the Sex Pistols in 1976 started to reach out on social media to gather interviews, blogs, photos and memories around the LCR and events at UEA.

These are now archived in a collection of entertainment memorabilia.

www.uea.ac.uk/library/archives-and-special-collections/uea-gig-history

My 'Gig List' became longer and more detailed as alumni contacted us, filling in the early days of the 60's scene. While following in Nick's footsteps, the current SU Venues team aspire to booking and staging acts well beyond what you would expect for a 'uni gig in Norwich'.

I know there were more events, Thursday discos, clubnights, socials, local bands, poetry slams, dance shows, comedy stand ups, plays, musicals, band competitions that aren't mentioned.

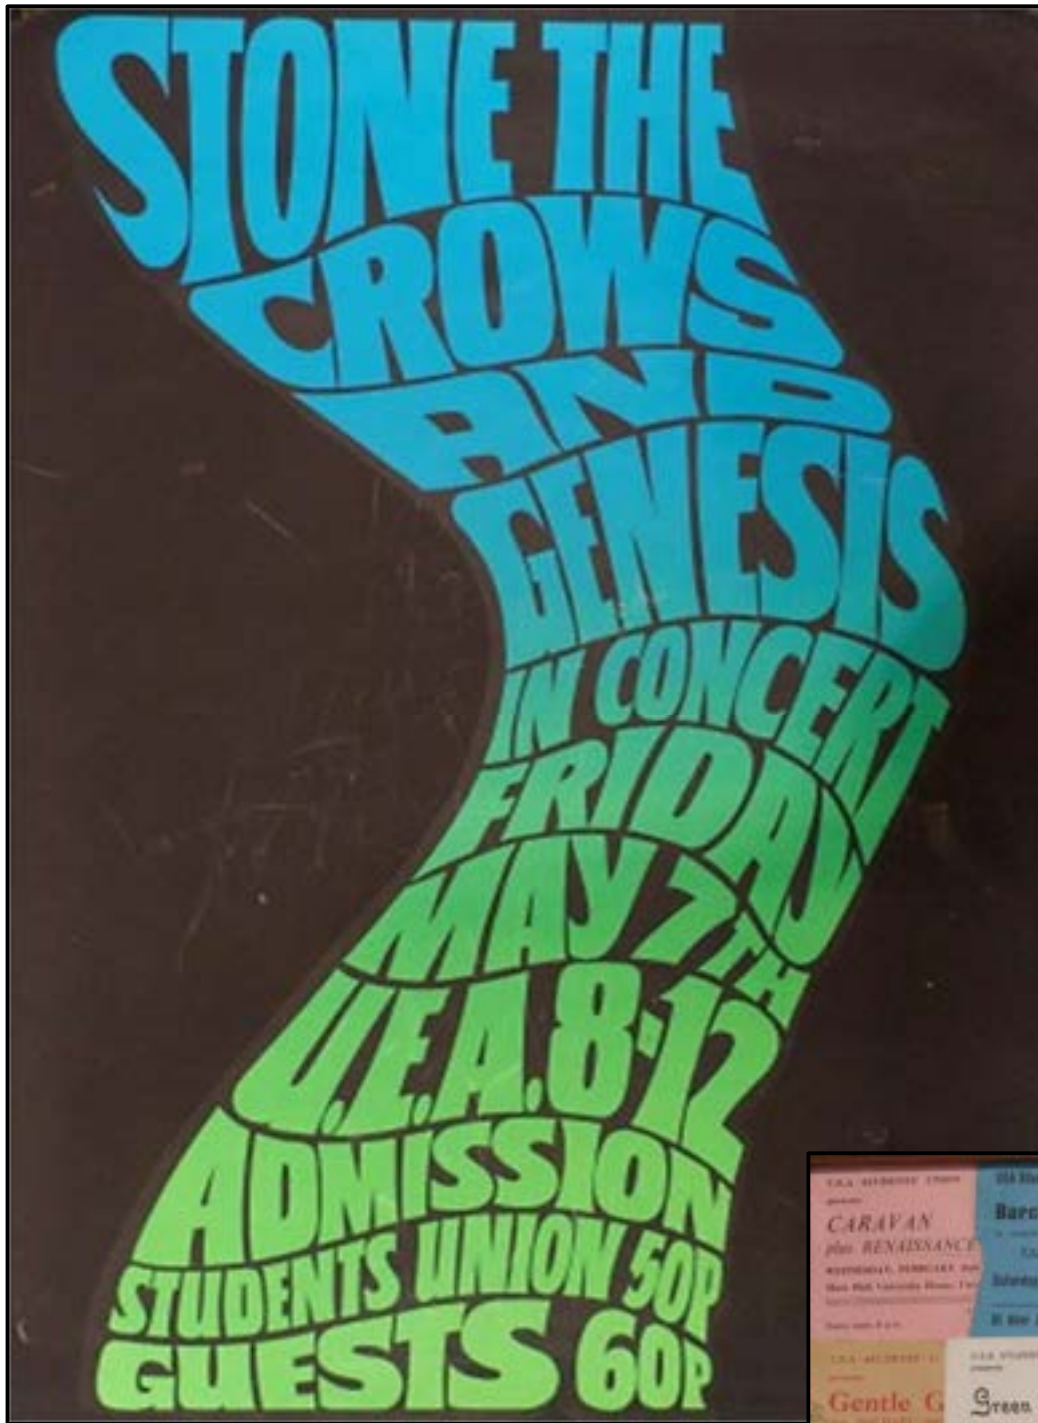

If you want to share your scans or photos of posters, tickets, or correct any details, please get in touch. g.hudson@uea.ac.uk

Hopefully this list will evoke your memories and reminiscences.

Enjoy the moments,
Gavin Hudson

In the beginning.....

In October 1963 the University of East Anglia was established and opened to 150 students all based in the Village. Their social life focused around a film on Sunday night and a dance on Saturdays, which many Norwich folk attended, the events took place in the Assembly Hall in The Village with a late bar closing at 10.30pm

1967

Students just love to socialise, ballroom dancing, the classical music society and the weekly Gramophone club meeting.

Bigger events were organised by Jazz Club, Folk Club, RAG (Charity fund raising) or the Social Committee of the SU, staging local and national performers on a regular basis.

Horsham Halls

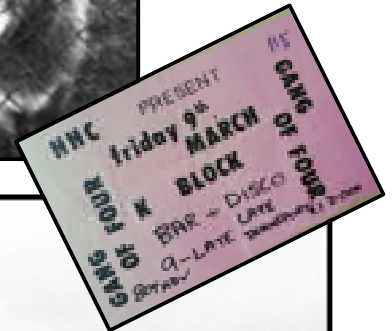

600 first year students lived off campus on a former RAF base north of the city near the airport called Horsham on Fifers Lane. Students lived in 2 storey H Blocks, had cooked breakfast provided, before queueing for a really poor bus service to campus (Last bus home was before midnight). The site closed down in 1992.

There were recreation facilities in B and G block which included a small bar, a cellar and basic function rooms. In the late 70s one of the H blocks was converted to a social area with a coffee bar and a badminton hall which served as a disco, gig venue and cinema K Block 14th March 1973, the building of University House finished, the Main Hall came into use.

However due to no equipment being installed, the bar was only 3m long, there weren't enough toilets, University staffing costs were huge and there were lots of restrictions on the licence, so most events continued across other rooms and halls in the village or Horsham where the refurbishment of K Block offered a new sport/function hall.

The LCR had a new system of moveable stage blocks and extra plug sockets installed as the latest acts were now bringing more coloured, flashing lights with them.

The LCR bar was fitted out for functions and the student staff were paid 56p an hour.

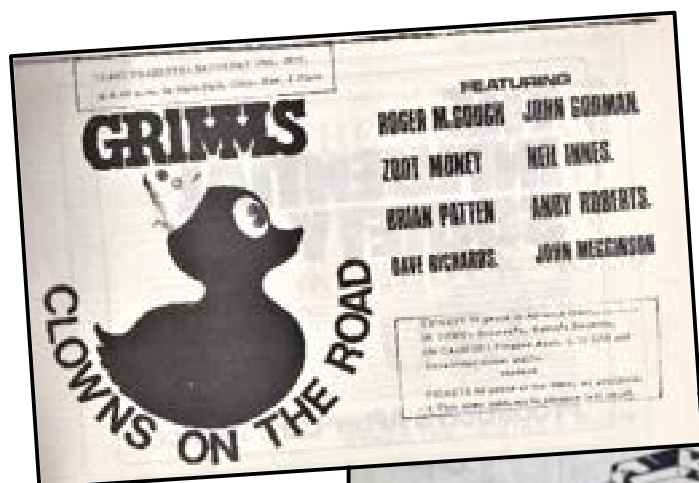

A UK student got an annual grant of £605 to pay for term time living expenses, while a room in Norfolk Terrace cost about £4.14 a week to rent.

In Dec 77 an Entertainments report made to Students council stated that Ents had made a surplus of £300 this term, the Folk club was in decline, but Jazz club remained very popular. They also debated whether to allow any bookings for the new trend of 'punk bands'. Their conclusion...

'There would be a need for extra stewards to stop the audience encroaching on the stage'.

Nick Rayns was employed as the Entertainments officer in May, one of his early booking dilemmas was for the free festival, he was offered an up and coming trio with only one hit single, or the more established Johnny Kidd and the Pirates, he always regretted he didn't book the Police when he had the chance

Student societies organized discos for fund raising, either in the LCR, The Barn in UEA village or in K block Horsham, Fifers Lane.

It cost 30-40p entry, 50-300 people would go and there were 4 or 5 a week to choose from.

At the time, it was illegal for any pub to serve alcohol after 11pm and any nightclub after 1.30am, so last tune was always at 12.30 and buildings on full lock by 1am.

26 Oct	Everything but the Girl	+ the Apartments		£4.50
29 Oct	Propaganda	+ Then Jericho		£4

A live TV broadcast for the BBC.... the Old Grey Whistle Test.

As the programme broadcast early evening, before a usual gig time, at 8 o'clock there was only a sparse crowd ready to cheer the band on.

So the staff had to keep moving the arriving audience around the LCR to make it seem full for the camera angles, for the two live songs they did for 'live TV'. Propaganda then left the stage to come back for a full show an hour and a half later.

1986

31 Jan	Marillion	£6.50
01 Feb	John Martyn	£4
07 Feb	Jesus and the Mary Chain	£4

Another eventful show but not for its music. After the support finished and in anticipation of the main act, the houselights went off, the crowd pushed forward.... then nothing for 20 minutes, the crowd grumbled, eventually the band emerged in the darkness, a customer threw a plastic cup, it bounced across the stage, the band turned and walked off.

A huge row broke out backstage as the tour manager said they wouldn't play in front of such a rowdy audience, quick thinking Nick Rayns, secretly told one of our crew to go into the mosh pit and make a fuss when security come. While Nick returned to argue with the tour manager near the stage, a big rumpus broke out on the dancefloor and 4 door staff dragged a kicking and screaming cup throwing customer out of the door.

Satisfied the troublemaker was gone, the band went back on stage. They played with their backs to the audience for their set, then after about 20 minutes they walked off again.

Rushing to the Tour Manager to find out what was wrong now, he replied

'No problems, that's their full show'..... and it had included an encore!

19 Feb	Pallas	+ Underground Zero	£2.75
25 Feb	Steel Pulse		£4
27 Feb	Sigue Sigue Sputnik	+ Black Elvis 2000	£3.50

A fantasy punk rock band with Tony James (of Generation X) and Martin Degville (a fashion designer).

Their single Love Missile was no.3 in the charts this week.

The next day national tabloid newspapers reported crowd riots at this debut show, a real shock to all the fans and staff who were there.....

we seemed to have missed that bit.

05 Mar	Terraplane (later became Thunder)	+ Underground Zero	£2.75

24 May	Tom Robinson		£4.25
28 May	Communards	+ Sheila Smith	£4
31 May	the Cramps		£5

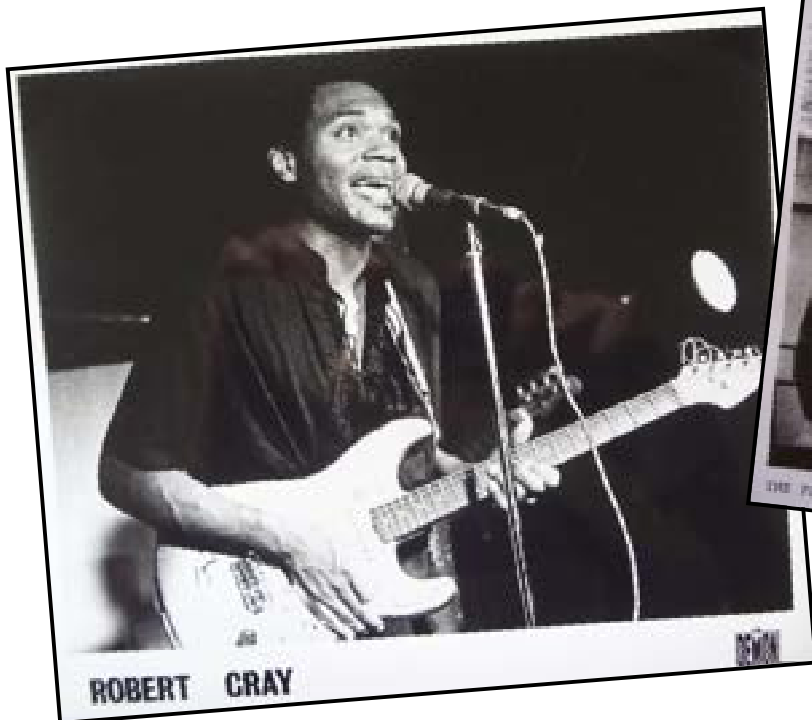

The band and lighting crew fell out during the day, the crew had had enough, they walked out at 7pm, but not to lose the show, the band went on stage with just white house lights.

It was also the first time we used a stage crash barrier for a gig, the US tour manager insisted it was strapped to the stage (it's supposed to be free standing).

The band went on, with the first excited crowd surge the stage sections pulled apart, leaving gaps and trips all over, the band stumbled on while the tour manager shouted at us to go under the stage and fix it !?!

..... at least the holes and trip hazards were brightly lit.

The band and gear arrived in the afternoon. As Gregory was notorious for always being late, the band went on at 9pm without him. When he still wasn't there at 9:30pm, we were about to announce to the public that the show was cancelled.

Just then we took a phone call in the office from Mr Isaacs saying he was ready now for his car to pick him up, from his friend's flat.

Only problem he was in Hammersmith, London, (he even suggested a helicopter !?!)

The gig was off, customers were leaving and being refunded. That's when the tour manager asked Nick for the bands cash fee, I never saw him so angry.

The gig set up as usual, the band came out and sound checked, then all went backstage.

At this point, the UEA crew were also told to leave the room.

Ray Davies then came out and rehearsed by himself, he was in such a grump with his brother and the band he was refusing to be in the same space, until showtime

... then what a gig!

The sudden closure and bankruptcy of the Waterfront Venue, King St, in February 1993, had left a big hole in the Norwich's music scene. Knowing of UEA LCR's long success, the City Council approached the Student Union to take over the venue's operation. Initially the plan was to provide 2 live gigs and 2 club nights a week for a 9 month trial. UEASU still run it and December 2023 see's the Waterfront celebrate 30 years of success... Coming soon their own Waterfront Gig List Book.

Not everyone who appears in the LCR is a pop star, you will find numerous mentions of a performer Stevie Starr – Regurgitator, every freshers this man would stun the room into dis-believing silence as he swallowed, lightbulbs, powder sugar, rubix cubes, washing up liquid, smoke, lighter fluid, a pool ball and live goldfish, then bring them back up to order..... Check him out on youtube

Just to re-assure you the goldfish always came out alive ready for the next show..... it was the strain in his face to get the billiard ball up that always worried me

With an increase in techno and rave clubs nationally, the SU decided to follow the trend.

So we planned a term of trendy branded dance clubnights, every Saturday night until 2am. (closing an hour later than normal)

House, techno, jungle, trance all the latest genres.

Our brand 'Section 77' referenced the clause in the governments licensing act

Following the break-up of Take That, the 'cheeky one' re-invented his career with his own band.
This was the first date of his 'the Show must go on Tour' to promote his solo album Life thru a Lens.

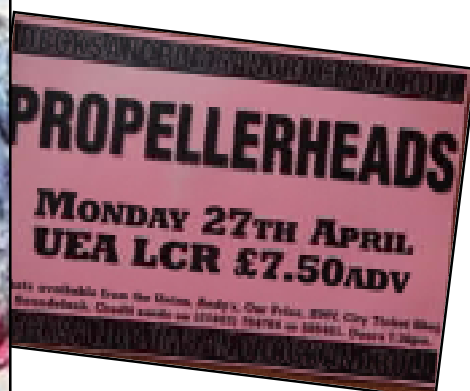

Another LCR first.... when the ecstatic audience left, various items of women's underwear were found on the stage, with address tags asking Robbie to return them.... personally.

We took 39 coaches, full of students to Potters Resort at Hopton, for a 4 course dinner, discos bands, fair rides and games. We also had a raffle so 4 lucky students arrived by helicopter and another 8 by limousine.

When going down the Acle straight, one guy was so desperate for the loo, he made the coach driver stop, rushing across the verge to the reeds..... how was he to know that the reeds grew in a 6ft deep water-filled dyke.... his tuxedo and him needed a very deep clean.

One summers evening in the late 80s we were hanging about in the Entertainments Office upstairs in Union House, testing some mobile disco systems.

A student popped in asking could we put a speaker out of the window, an hour later a couple of hundred people were dancing in the Square.

A tradition was started,

the End of Year Disco in the Square

Next year following complaints about noise, we came to an arrangement with the authorities,

'They wouldn't answer their phones until after midnight.'

We'd choose a day, make 6 hand written posters, the rest was word of mouth.

They came in their hundreds to do the 'Time Warp'.

22 July Stereophonics + Little Man Tate £27.50

We got this date as the band were warming up for festivals in Russia, Latvia and Finland, everything was going to plan, until Kelly's throat started to trouble him late afternoon, a doctors visit and medicines meant they had to call it off at 8pm.

We explained to a packed LCR, keep hold of your tickets, we'll look to re-arrange, in the meantime enjoy the support Little Man Tate.

They honoured their promise and fitted us in on their sell out arena tour in the autumn.

Coldplay

djs Zane Lowe, Greg James, Fearne Cotton

£20

UEA was selected for a special 'Live on Radio 1' gig, the band name was kept secret.

We announced a week before that tickets for Coldplay would go on sale at 9am Saturday morning, in person only.

Wednesday around 5pm the first customer set up camp outside the door, by Thursday lunch time there was a queue stretching across the campus way beyond our capacity. We marked the end and had to turn everyone else away.

The queue started to trend on social media, about 8pm a pizza van turned up and started to dish out pizza slices for free, we asked who had ordered them? The driver checked with the office, they were all paid for, the only reference was 'Cheers for the support, Chris & the guys'.

Show day:- the band flew in from Spain, where they had played the night before in the Madrid Bull Ring to 25,000 fans.

At lunchtime the band did an acoustic set in the Blue Bar for Radio 1's Live Lounge show with dj Fearne Cotton presenting to a select 70 people.

At 7pm, in the LCR, all soundchecked and live on radio, dj Zane Lowe took to the decks for his usual evening radio show, then unexpectedly dj Greg James (UEA alumni) arrived from London, suddenly Zane, Greg and Fearne were all on stage trying to out dj each other. With the 1500 audience at fever pitch, the band took to the stage playing their new album Mylo Xyloto. After an amazing performance they rushed straight off stage into waiting cars, to begin an 18 month world stadium tour.

During the second song, Jay the singer dropped the microphone and walked off the stage, locking himself in his dressing room. The stress of a long tour finally taking its toll.

I went on stage to apologise, as 1500 disappointed fans went home early.

However the band returned in the spring of 2015 and played an awesome set with extra acoustic numbers and new unheard songs.

Lead singer, Isaac, went crowd surfing towards the end, clambering back on stage he crashed into a wedge speaker and dislocated his shoulder.... his show was over.

Laurie his partner struggled to play the encore by himself, because he was laughing so much.

Several hours later a very sore Isaac asked me had there been any other injuries at the show because while he was in the hospital waiting room, several gig goers had arrived in A&E, 'although thinking about it they had all left, once they'd had a selfie with me ?'

News reports of a pandemic spreading across the globe, caused huge uncertainty.

The UK government ordered the closure of all pubs, nightclubs and venues by midnight Friday 13 March as rules around social distancing and lockdown come in.

People are told to stay at home and avoid physical contact with each other to prevent spreading the potentially fatal disease COVID 19

COVID & LOCK DOWN

The Covid pandemic in Spring 2020 led to the closure of every venue, pub, cinema, school, sports centre and socialising space around the world as lockdowns, social distancing, masks and daily testing became the norm.

The rates of infection and hospitalisation went through the population in waves, all businesses were stop and start, opened then closed, staff were furloughed, redundancies, cancellations, shortages and closures were everywhere.

The UEA closed all its buildings. Teaching, lectures, socialising, student support all moved online. No sports, no gigs, no clubs, no pub.

In April 21 the SU was allowed to re-open but only with socially distanced seated tables of six, no standing up indoors, everyone masked up, table service, no loud music. We converted the LCR to a large pub that could seat 240 and created a big outdoors beer garden for 280, which was ideal when the Euros Football went ahead and we installed a huge screen.

Government restrictions started to ease in July 21, self-testing had become a daily routine for the population, we began planning for reduced capacity events, but sometimes at a few hours' notice they would then cancel as someone on the tour tested positive.

Eventually in August 2021 we had our first 'in person live gig,' it was at full capacity but everyone who attended had to prove they were virus free, either with a Lateral Flow Test from that day or proof they had recently had covid or that they had been vaccinated.

With Government guidance changing weekly, slowly and cautiously, we re-opened.

The LCR opted for everyone proving their covid status as a requirement of entry, in the first few shows we offered test kits and about 70 people a night would use them on the spot, but it soon reduced as phone apps and NHS vaccine registration became more reliable.

We were back..... if cautiously

Another strange tour request,

'We need some dancers on stage for a song?
Any volunteers?'

'Oh... they have to wear a full fancy dress animal suit & dance like a Wombat !'

Suddenly all the student crew were up for it.

Imagine the steppes of central asia, wild horsemen, the descendants of Genghis Khan, strange stringed instruments, pounding drums..... plug it in to amplifiers and add guttural vocals, all in Mongolian. Heavy Metal knows no borders.

05 Jul Tom Grennan

s/o £12.5

Another HMV deal, tickets tied to a new album. A solid hour of performance then an impromptu acoustic singalong from the top of his tour van outside, a health & safety nightmare for us, but his fans and social media loved it.

2023

14 Jul	Lady Bunny	drag act		£20
21 Jul	Graduation Party	with Masseoke, games and fireworks		£16
08 Aug	Nothing but Thieves			£13
HMV linked another album release with a live show, this time the fans are treated to a unique acoustic set from 3 band members with audience questions and answers between songs.

Really pleased to be playing their 10th UEA show and we're so chuffed they keep coming back.

02 Dec	Don Broco	+ Trashboat + Ocean Grove		£32.5
--------	-----------	---------------------------	--	-------

Turned out the guitarist Simon Delaney, is another UEA alumni student from 2014.

Ever wondered what a mosh pit looks like from the stage.

And Thank You

- to all those who have contributed with comments, images and anecdotes especially Di Anderson the keeper of the backstage secrets for more than 20 years.
 - to the photographers who have captured so many great images and shared them with us. Andi Sapey, Al Pulford, Mark Stimpson and Trevor Benbrook for his 80's selection.
 - to Rob Cranthorne and Mel Bray for holding on to those early posters.
 - to those who shared their stories and corrected details, Brian Mandeville, Dave Gutteridge, Phil Dennison, Reg Tubby, John Doel, Mark Hodgson, Andy Gamble-Beresford, Martin Pope, Tim Richards, Amy Clutton, Howard Royse, Ruth Selwyn-Crome.... and many others.
- A favourite mention to three undergrads who sent a recording of Monty Python performing the Dead parrot sketch in the Village, in the 60's..... it's only a short clip though... because they were so busy laughing, they forgot to load another tape, cheers chaps! George Cheney III, Ian Blenkinsop & Dave Charlton
- to Diana Piccirillo for the cover design.
 - to the touring artistes, musicians, Djs, and performers for their music and art.
 - to you our students and customers, who keep coming.....Let's keep it Live!

But none of this would ever be possible without the many Ents & Union staff, past and present who unload the trucks, sell the tickets, book the bands, poster the boards, count the cash, pay the bills, fix the gear, scan the tickets, serve the drinks, sweep the floors, safeguard the audience and do all the many other things behind the scenes. Thank You!

Until the next time ! Gavin
